Ciara joined Darwin Gray in March 2023 as a trainee solicitor. She has more than 3 years' paralegal experience, working in-house for Britain's first green energy company. Having obtained a first-class law degree from Swansea University, and completed her Legal Practice Course with BPP London, Ciara felt it was the right time to move into private practice and narrow down her specialty.

Ciara currently works in the firm's highly respected commercial dispute resolution team. A typical day for her includes liaising with the Courts, taking client instructions, and supporting supervisors with any number of requests. Ciara enjoys getting into the finer details that can really make or break a client's case.
