A CIM-qualified marketing professional, Anna is experienced in marketing and communications across a broad range of sectors.

Anna first joined Darwin Gray in 2015 as Marketing Manager for a number of years, re-joining the team in July 2022 as Head of Marketing.

Anna leads on communications, marketing strategy and business development. No two days at the office are the same for her, and she can be found managing the firm's website, PR and social media channels, as well as creating content and organising events across Wales and the UK.

An avid traveller, she spent a year studying and exploring the US after graduating from Swansea University. Her favourite travel destinations so far include Sri Lanka, Canada & New Zealand. Her passion for adventure has led her to work in places such as Zambia, and the UAE.
